Turner Falls High School

Class of 1967

MR. CHARLES H. GALVIN

In the whirling turns of change and the circling spiral of time, there is one man who will remain stable, who will stand fast in our hearts. He has helped many classes as they struggled, hestitated, and then turned with confidence to walk from Turners Falls High School. He has taken pride in the students who leave our school, and we are proud of him.

During the last four years, he has opened our eyes to the elements of today's earth and has listened to our dreams of tomorrow's world. He has patiently instructed and guided, not only as a respected teacher, but as a trusted friend, always willing to do more than his share.

His patient encouragement, his cheerful laughter, his gruff humor, and his soft heart have left echoing memories which will linger in the minds of the Class of '67 long after much of our high school experience has been forgotten.

And so it is that we, with admiration, affection, and respect, have the honor of dedicating our yearbook to you — Mr. Galvin.

MR. ARTHUR E. BURKE

Always there must be one to lead. There must be one hand to direct and oversee others. The Class of 1967 found strength and guidance in the form of a man whose face was seldom seen yet whose authority was always felt. Because of his ability and experience we face the future with confidence.

We are the last class this man will supervise, perhaps to him we are special. We feel fortunate to have been under his guidance throughout our school lives.

As you have wished us luck, so too, the Class of 1967, with gratitude, wishes you luck, Mr. Burke.

MR. WILLIAM A. COOK

Standing straight and firm in the doorway as we turn around to look back, is the smiling figure of a man who knows the Class of '67 well. His knowledge came from close association with us as individuals. Ever present, always willing, he has taught us discipline, given us encouragement, listened to our problems, and directed us toward mature solutions.

His interest was obvious from the early weeks of our Junior year when he called us by name. From our first favorable impression our admiration for him has grown steadily, encouraged by his dedication to young people and his understanding of them.

For the support and guidance you have given us, respectfully and sincerely we thank you, Mr. Cook.

MR. ALBERT J. ROUTHIER

A class can not pass from year to year; students can not work from day to day without friends to guide and help. Each "turn around" which brings us to strength and maturity has been easier because of help and advice. Our guidance counselor and class advisor has offered the help we needed. As freshmen — our questions were answered; as sophomores — our first activities were supervised; as juniors — our futures were discussed; as seniors — our efforts were supported. Resulting from this, our paths are now straighter, our steps sure, our ideas more stable, and our hearts more secure — for this we are indebted to you, Mr. Routhier.

In Memoriam

Mr. Harold Pervere

As little children, you taught us sportsmanship and how to have fun through working as a coach for the Little League. It was to you that we looked for help in learning to bat, and pitch, and catch.

As we grew out of the "Little League" stage, you became our trusted friend, and we respected your advice. You were always at our sports events, cheering and urging us on to victory; sharing our joy in success, and our disappointments in defeat. For this we thank you, Baldy. Your memory will live in our hearts forever.

Susan Marie Sicard

The day we entered high school, you were an "upperclassman," a friend to help us find our way through the confusing halls, to smile knowingly as we searched for the elevator and to share with us the excitement of our new experience. As the years passed, our friendship grew. After graduation you left T.F.H.S. looking forward to the next year eagerly. It was early in the fall that He led you to a greater and happier life.

We miss you Sue; your friendly smile and your bubbling personality will always linger in our memories.

Turn Around

We turned and walked uncertainly toward the doors of Turners Falls High School. We were freshmen, anxious to join the swirling activity of the people we wanted to call our friends, eager to meet the challenges of the life we would find, worried that we might not be able to stand strong through the circling patterns of smiles, tears, successes, and disappointments that lay ahead. With our official welcome, the Freshman Dance, we began to join together, and our steps grew more certain. Through the rest of the year we worked, learning from the upperclassmen who led us.

But we were not willing to follow forever. We were ready to experiment, to seek our own accomplishments, to rise to leadership. As sophomores we took our first "turn around" toward independent class activity by electing our class officers: President, Kenneth Brown; Vice-President, Robert Bray; Secretary, Jean Monkewicz; Treasurer, Patricia Warner; and Historian, Nedine Potter. We went on to conduct our first class project — Sophomore Social. In a flurry of painting paper candy canes, borrowing reindeer, and giving last minute instructions to Santa Claus, we created our "Winter Wonderland."

We Were Two

The next year brought a change which affected all of us; our leader, principal, and friend, Mr. George F. Wrightson, retired. We looked anxiously to the man who would be our principal for the next two years: Mr. William Cook. Within a very short time, Mr. Cook found his own place in our hearts and became a most respected and admired advisor and friend.

Resuming activity, we once again chose our leaders with Secretary Mary Grimard and Treasurer Deborah Ross taking their new positions.

The falling leaves of November sprinkled excitement over Turners Falls as the Powertown Indians and the Greenfield "Greenies" turned to face one another in their annual Turkey Day football game. Our defensive wall held strong against the "Green Wave" while our offense smashed ahead for a 28-14 victory! Jubilant, we celebrated for days after the game with a party at St. Kaziemerz, the highlight of the festivities.

The spirit of success was in the air and the Class of '67 was determined to make our Junior year "tops" in all respects. On April 30, 1966, members of our class reflected talent and enthusiasm in Junior Prizespeaking. For the ten contestants, that evening was a memorable one — the lights, the roses, the "lucky" silver dollars, and the thrill of performing on stage combined to make the months of work and practice worthwhile.

With stars still shining in our eyes, we whole-heartedly "turned around" to the biggest social event of the year —Junior Prom. "Forever Emerald" was the theme for the Irish setting, and the gym sparkled with pink, yellow, and red roses. Truly a "forever" night, the evening never ended for most of us as we danced into the morning hours at a country party after our prom.

All too soon, our happy spring ended. At graduation we watched many of our good friends leave TFHS, and we stopped to wonder — what would our last year in high school hold for us?

Turn Around We Were Four

As Seniors we met many changes in our class and our school. No longer could we brag about our one o'clock dismissal time, for our school day was lengthened to two-thirty. We initiated our first school lunch program, and called ourselves the 'gymnateria for lunch bunch'. Confusion reigned; even the rooms were numbered differently, and, as bewildered as freshmen, we vainly looked for Room 16 on the third floor.

TFHS's first official Student Patrol and Student Council were organized. Soon plans for a Booster Day weekend were formulated and the Student Council began work. Marcy Porlier was elected the first Booster Day Queen of Turners Falls High School, and she reigned over a rally, a parade, the Drury-Turners Falls football game, and the Booster Day Slop Hop. Although Drury squeaked over our football team at the game, the weekend was termed a success, and the Class of '67 had led in the establishment of another first in the history of TFHS.

Eager to make up for the Booster Day loss, the football team gathered all of its strength for the Thanksgiving Day clash. In spite of criticism like "lightning never strikes twice," and "last year was a freak," the team and coaches expressed determination and confidence at the Turkey Day Rally. The game was tense and exciting — in the last ten seconds we broke a tie to soar to an 18-12 victory! This was the second victory for Turners after 15 years of Greenfield glory!

We kept changing, "turning" to new people and activities. Class officers were chosen: President, Robert Bray; Vice-President, Patricia O'Connor; Secretary, Mary Grimard; Treasurer, Robert Campbell; and Historian, Nedine Potter. The George F. Wrightson branch of the National Honor Society was founded, and five members of our class were chosen to participate on "As Schools Match Wits." We proudly watched our classmates gain recognition for music, literary activities, scholastic achievements, and sports.

Next, we prepared for our Senior Play, The Madwoman of Chaillot. Long hours of rehearsal resulted in an experience that will be long remembered by the Class of '67. Once again we felt the thrill of performing on stage and the satisfaction and pride which results from hard work and a job well done.

The months passed. We cherished our times together as we made plans for our last "turn around." We saw the Juniors rise to new responsibility as we prepared to leave. Now, we turn together, soon to walk from the protective halls of our ivy covered school — each one of us ready to meet — tomorrow.

Ivy Poem

We leave our symbol:
To grow where we have grown.
To live where we have lived,
To see what we have seen,
To climb where we have climbed.

Its roots will hold
Where ours are torn away.
Its vines are filled with food
Of our beginnings.

Its stem will stand
Where we have built our strength.
Its leaves will show green promise
For our tomorrows.

Some vines will cling to earth;
Others will break away —
To die.
Some shoots will soar from sight;
Many will rise above —
To live.

Leo Woznakewicz leaves Mr. Bassett a peaceful homeroom.
Howard Zentgraf leaves.

ACTIVITIES

Junior Prom

The gaiety, beauty, and magic of Ireland was ours as we danced in our garden of roses at the Junior Prom. The Irish countryside and spirit came alive in music and color, but all too soon faded into a few crushed flowers, crumpled programs, and golden memories — memories that to the Class of '67 will be . . . "Forever Emerald."
